

ARIANA CONTRERAS

October 2022

To Whom it May Concern,

I am passionate about change for our young people in our community and am excited about this opportunity to serve students, advocate for best practices, and improve our local schools. I previously worked in education as an English as a Second Language teacher for the sixth grade and am passionate about helping children achieve to their highest abilities.

My career has taken me in a different path when I moved to Massachusetts but I am interested in the opportunity to use my professional skills gained in the non-profit sector to help guide budget decisions, assist in achieving and setting school goals, and ensure school policies are both up to date and relevant to our students, schools, and community.

After working in a Title 1 school and working with students transitioning into middle school, and working with middle schoolers in Lynn through the pandemic, I hope to bring a unique perspective on what a collective success for our students, teachers, and schools can and should be in our ever-changing world.

Thank you for your time and consideration,
Ariana Contreras
